

The Special Communication 2023

WHAT TO EXPECT

This year, as we approach the Special Communication, we will consider significant proposed changes to how Freemasons New Zealand is governed. To assist members in understanding the proposals and the remits to be considered, we will provide members with tools to assess the changes and their significance. The infographic below highlights the key dates and opportunities for you to engage and have your say.

10th September

The Board approves remits

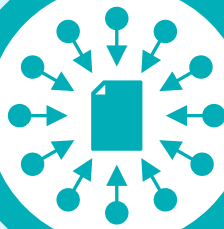

18th September

Everyone will get a review copy with FAQs and remits included. Please read it. It has details on the upcoming remits that delegates can vote on.

2nd October

There will be further remits issued on 2 October - these relate to the triennial and annual Communications and to disciplinary provisions of the Book of Constitution

During October

Got more questions? Starting 3rd October, there'll be Zoom meetings every week, totaling at least 9 before the Special Communication. All members can join to get more details on any question

18th November

Special Communication is on! Thanks to a clearer process, all remits are now ready for a well-informed decision
